LUXURY AND HISTORY IN BOSTON

Millennium Partners have elegantly merged the past with the future by situating the development at, and including, the restored landmark 1912 Burnham Building together with the Millennium Tower – a new mixed-use tower that will rise 685 feet into the Boston skyline. The contemporary residential tower, designed by acclaimed architect Gary Handel, will comprise 442 luxury residences with panoramic views of Boston. The adjacent restored Burnham Building will house offices as well as premium retailers, including the area's first large-scale grocery store. Millennium Tower is set to take its place as the signature luxury residential offering in one of the city's most vibrant neighbourhoods and is destined to become a prestigious address that will reinvigorate Downtown Boston. 17
