Millennium Partners launch new luxurious project

Millennium Partners (MP), as one of the most prestigious developers of luxury mixed-use properties at the forefront of luxury urban living in the U.S., has been setting extraordinary standards of design, services and amenities in some of the most dynamic neighborhoods in this country.

MP is now launching a global promotion of its latest residential project, Millennium Tower Boston. Located in downtown Boston, this US$630 million project showcases a harmonious balance of old and new and a new level of luxury residential condominium offerings.

“Boston is emerging as one of the hottest luxury real estate markets in the U.S. The surge of midtown sales indicates a strong shift to full-service lifestyle living in Boston. The Millennium Tower is indicative of this, with residents being drawn to its diversity, unique services, and the way it embraces the globalization of the city,” said Richard Baumert, partner at Millennium Partners.

Residences at Millennium Tower Boston are available from USD$850,000 upwards. ■
